Arts Council News

Art Walkin' & Talkin': A hot sunny day greeted the Wine Capital Art Walk last Saturday. A few hundred visitors, "passports" in hand, revelled in the art, music and refreshments. Live outdoor music created a festive mood: Sister Soul on one block and Cindy Doucette on the other. All wine barrels sold at the silent auction. As participants in the art walk, we also welcomed two new business members to the arts council: Oliver Eats Ltd and The Dance Studio of Oliver! Yay!

Ready for Digging: We have the building permit in hand for the new Quail's Nest Arts Centre sign. The BC One Call (before you dig) has been made. Lorenzo Furlan is ready to clear the front beds in preparation for new hardscaping and Sage Nursery plants. Footings for the new sign will go in first, followed by the landscaping. The actual sign will be added last as the finishing touch.

Never too Early to Start Art: Mark your schedule for October 5 - 6, the weekend of the Fall Art Show & Sale. This year is "Artists Choice" so let loose with your creativity. Any artwork – fresh off the brush or off the wall - is welcome, just as long as it has not been shown in a previous FASS. Multimedia entries: fibre arts, oils, photography, acrylics, 3-D, mixed media, watercolours, children and youth.

Get Jumping for June: With June just around the corner, it's time to book your Summer Studio rental! For $60, you have up to 6 days of quiet space to spread out and get messy! And member groups: submit your application for Contracted Service Agreements (due June 1). OliverCAC@gmail.com
